Networking Lunches in June

Want to know more about life as a graduate student? Join us online and in-person (lunch provided) for this free networking event. In small groups, students will have the opportunity to talk to current grad students and post-docs from a variety of disciplinary areas about their graduate school experiences. Discussion topics include: What made you decide to pursue a graduate degree? How and why did you choose MSU? How is grad school different from undergrad? What is your typical day like? Is post-doc experience necessary for your career choice?
